

Screaming Blood 100 million victims of Marxism

In order to stand up to and confront the constantly increasing incitement and violent excesses towards the right-wing, as well as the claim of the left-wing extremists (the Neo-Marxists) of having the sole truth, we must once again remember the violent roots of historical Marxism.

Exactly what our new short documentary will do.

In order to stand up to and confront the constantly increasing incitement and violent excesses towards the right-wing, as well as the claim of the left-wing extremists (the Neo-Marxists) of having the sole truth, we must once again remember the violent roots of historical Marxism.

Exactly what our new short documentary will do. It calls into remembrance in detail some 100 million blood sacrifices of Marxism. The journey takes us from the founders of the "Institute for social studies" (IfS), later known as the "Frankfurt School" with their "Critical Theory", to the present time – where this theory, more than ever, dismantles the smallest and most stable cell of a healthy society: the family unit. But this is not enough. Through the course of its nihilistic master plan, Neo-Marxism also attempts, of course, to dismantle all other well-tried concepts, achievements, institutions etc.

Even when facing the unfaltering laws of nature, the shirtless rebel does not stop – that which will with certainty break his pride.

In order to stand up to and confront the constantly increasing incitement and violent excesses towards the right-wing, as well as the claim of the left-wing extremists (the Neo-Marxists) of having the sole truth, we must once again remember the violent roots of historical Marxism.

This is what KLA.TV will do with this short documentary. The decline of values in our society is ubiquitous. Decency, discipline, tradition, loyalty and family are hardly considered to be worthwhile anymore. But this is not a random development, since the decline of values is based on the "Critical Theory" of the "Frankfurt School" which consequently since the revolution of 68 is being realized.

The dogmas circulated in politics, media and education since the mid-sixties are tied in with the thinking patterns of Marxism – presumed long since dead.

But Marxism only appeared to be dead. The explanation being that Marxism had lost its attractiveness due to the devastating conditions in the Soviet Union during the 1920s. A violent takeover of western countries by the armed proletariat was no longer possible due to the bloody massacres that had occurred. In 1923 a group of sociologists, philosophers and psychologists came together to give Marxism a new strategy or direction. The social philosopher Max Horkheimer was their head leader. The "Institute for social studies" (IfS) was founded in Frankfurt, where the "Critical Theory" was developed. Later on, the members of the IfS called themselves the "Frankfurt School". Even today, the slogans of the "Frankfurt School" are strongly shaping the world view of young people.

The most important proponents of the "Frankfurt School" were: Max Horkheimer, Theodor W. Adorno, Herbert Marcuse, Erich Fromm, and Jürgen Habermas.

With the "Critical Theory" the "Frankfurt School" concealed the Marxist body of thought behind an allegedly scientific theory – a theory which attacks classical institutions like the family, the free market economy, and Christianity.

The “Critical Theory” calls for a liberation of society from these allegedly repressive institutions. The “Critical Theory” is unscientific, ideologically motivated, and not guided by interest in truth and objectivity.

Before all others, the “Critical Theory” attacks the family, being the smallest and most stable cell of a healthy society. Hiding behind the “liberation” from sexual taboos, from authoritarian education, and old role models, is the Marxist struggle against the family.

The goal and ideology of Neo-Marxism is the destruction of a civil value-based society, in order to create a “new human being”, thus following the fundamental idea of the communist world revolution.

But let's observe in the following list the foundation from which Marxism, including so-called socialism or communism, has arisen. Taken together, no less than 100 million murder victims are on the accounts of Karl Marx, Lenin, Stalin, Trotzki and their successors.

They are also the forefathers of a large part of increasing criminality, declining birth rates, drug-trafficking, abortion propaganda, and the loss of quality in media, education and society – and much more.

Violent left-wing extremists all over the world, as well as the even more violent black block, are financed with tax money, and are proving that hitherto Marxism in no way considers ceasing from its violence.

The complete decline of values on all levels can be traced back verifiably to this ideological origin. The descendants of these bloodstained ideologists have once again taken over control of the gearlevers of all universities, schools, and also mass media and governments. With the decline of these, they can be found at the forefront of the cultural scene, also in justice, in NGOs, and in all kinds of companies and so-called human institutions.

At the same time, however, the blood guilt of this violent ideology with its history of mass-murders has never been juridically avenged. How on earth has this even been possible?

Here is a list of the numbers of victims of Marxist mass-murders:

List of the numbers of victims of ideologically-politically motivated mass murders

The number of humans killed by communists are considered by the author of this list, as “rough estimates, and are based on informal sources”. So, these are estimates which, eventually, could be even higher:

1. Soviet Union: 20 million 2. China: 65 million 3. Vietnam: 1 million 4. North Korea: 2 million 5. Cambodia: 2 million

6. Eastern Europe: 1 million 7. Latin America: 150.000 8. Africa: 1,7 million 9. Afghanistan: 1,5 million 10. about 10,000 killed by international communist activists, independent of governmental power

11. GDR (former East Germany) 1,065 killed at the border

Mass crimes of the Marxists in the Soviet Union: Execution of tens of thousands of hostages and prisoners without trial

12. 1918 - 1922: Killing of hundreds of thousands of rebellious workers and farmers

13. 1920: Extermination and deportation of the Cossacks

14. 1922: An intentional famine with 5 million victims

15. 1918 - 1930: Killing of tens of thousands in concentration camps 16. 1937-1938: liquidation of almost 690,000 people during the “Great Terror”

17. 1930 - 1932: deportation of 2 million Kulaks

18. 1932 - 1933: During the “Holodomor” (artificially and systematically extended famine) according to various calculations between 3,5 and 7 million humans were killed, of which about one-third (1/3) were children. Single sources speak of up to 14.5 million humans

(including shootings, deportations and fictitious loss of births.)

19. (There is an assertion that in the Ukraine alone – within a time period of 17 months – 11 million were killed – this in particular has to be verified ... )

20. 1939 - 1941 and again in 1944 and 1945: deportation of hundreds of thousands of Polish people, Ukrainians, Balts, Moldavians and inhabitants of Bessarabia

21. 1941: deportation of the Volga Germans

22. 1943: Complete deportation of all Crimean Tatars

23. 1944: Complete deportation of all Chechens

24. 1944: Complete deportation of all people from Ingushetia

Moreover

25. As of 1950: gradual annihilation of the Tibetans by the Chinese communists

26. 1975 - 1978: deportation and annihilation of the urban population in Cambodia

It is time to wake up and call-off the nihilistic activities of the Neo-Marxists, disguised as humanitarians. Stop the destruction of families, stop the destruction of nationalities, and national borders, stop gender ideology with its premature sexualization and pornography flood.

Stop the continuous expansion of the legalization of drugs; and all of feminism. Stop the constant propaganda for trans-sexuality; the tattoo mania, and much more.

Wherever the dismantling of well-tried methods and standards is propagated, whenever we should be seduced to act against the unbendable laws of nature, here we have to speak of a criminal ideology and, for the sake of the common good, forbid it.

The common good must stand above every destructive ideology again.
