

Dear Ambassador _____

I am writing to you with deep concern following recent media reports indicating that Brazil has implemented a legal vaccination mandate for infants, children, and adolescents—one that includes the highly controversial mRNA COVID-19 vaccine. It is deeply troubling that parents are facing immense pressure, with the threat of severe financial penalties—reportedly up to 20 months’ salary—for choosing not to subject their children to this form of gene-based therapy. Even such punitive fines do not exempt families from the mandate. Alarming testimonies suggest that some families have even had their children removed from their care for refusing the injection. Reports of serious adverse health effects in vaccinated children further underline the urgent need for action. I respectfully urge you to use all means within your power to advocate for the protection of Brazilian families and to bring an end to this compulsory vaccination policy—for the health and well-being of your nation’s children.

Sincerely,

Dear Ambassador _____

I am writing to you with deep concern following recent media reports indicating that Brazil has implemented a legal vaccination mandate for infants, children, and adolescents—one that includes the highly controversial mRNA COVID-19 vaccine. It is deeply troubling that parents are facing immense pressure, with the threat of severe financial penalties—reportedly up to 20 months’ salary—for choosing not to subject their children to this form of gene-based therapy. Even such punitive fines do not exempt families from the mandate. Alarming testimonies suggest that some families have even had their children removed from their care for refusing the injection. Reports of serious adverse health effects in vaccinated children further underline the urgent need for action. I respectfully urge you to use all means within your power to advocate for the protection of Brazilian families and to bring an end to this compulsory vaccination policy—for the health and well-being of your nation’s children.

Sincerely,

Dear Ambassador _____

I am writing to you with deep concern following recent media reports indicating that Brazil has implemented a legal vaccination mandate for infants, children, and adolescents—one that includes the highly controversial mRNA COVID-19 vaccine. It is deeply troubling that parents are facing immense pressure, with the threat of severe financial penalties—reportedly up to 20 months’ salary—for choosing not to subject their children to this form of gene-based therapy. Even such punitive fines do not exempt families from the mandate. Alarming testimonies suggest that some families have even had their children removed from their care for refusing the injection. Reports of serious adverse health effects in vaccinated children further underline the urgent need for action. I respectfully urge you to use all means within your power to advocate for the protection of Brazilian families and to bring an end to this compulsory vaccination policy—for the health and well-being of your nation’s children.

Sincerely,

Dear Ambassador _____

I am writing to you with deep concern following recent media reports indicating that Brazil has implemented a legal vaccination mandate for infants, children, and adolescents—one that includes the highly controversial mRNA COVID-19 vaccine. It is deeply troubling that parents are facing immense pressure, with the threat of severe financial penalties—reportedly up to 20 months’ salary—for choosing not to subject their children to this form of gene-based therapy. Even such punitive fines do not exempt families from the mandate. Alarming testimonies suggest that some families have even had their children removed from their care for refusing the injection. Reports of serious adverse health effects in vaccinated children further underline the urgent need for action. I respectfully urge you to use all means within your power to advocate for the protection of Brazilian families and to bring an end to this compulsory vaccination policy—for the health and well-being of your nation’s children.

Sincerely,

From:

Address of the Brazilian Embassy

From:

Address of the Brazilian Embassy

From:

Address of the Brazilian Embassy

From:

Address of the Brazilian Embassy

